

Guide for Kids

Diabetes Resources

" The Story of Taylor & Riley "

"Why so blue Taylor?" asked Riley.

"ugh! the doctor told me that I've diabetes. It sucks right?" replied Taylor.

Riley said "Hold your horses, mate. There are lots of diabetics around you, including me."

"You too?" Taylor asked.

"Ahem!"

It looks like we'll hang out together. Let's get started!" Riley replied.

"Here is all you need.

Umm, Adults call it a medical device but I think it's an energy booster!

So, let me explain how to use it!" said Riley

"First, I open the lid to see my insulin pen

Then...

" Well, here is the sign to use the pen.

First, I slide this little box onto the pen, rotate it, and then take it off!

added Riley.

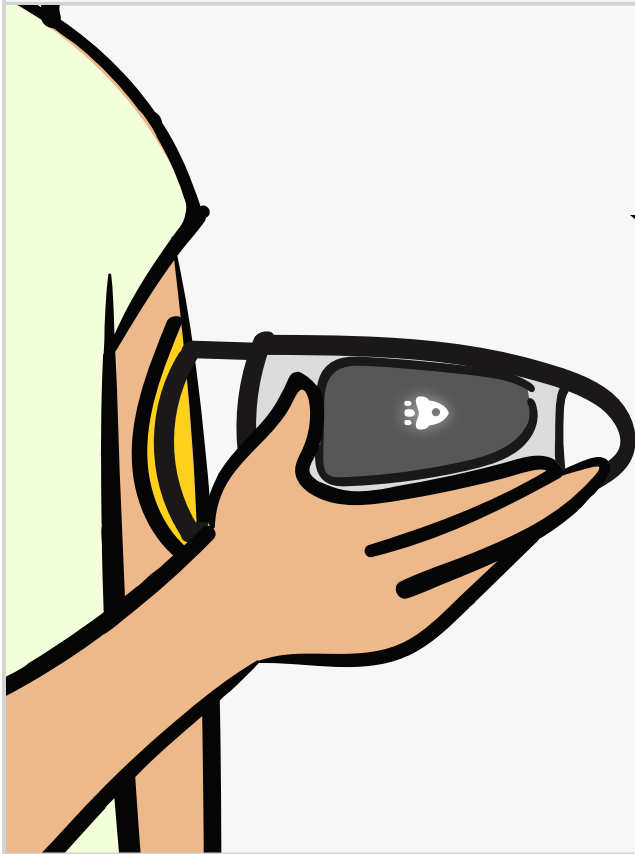

Rotate & Pull

The easiest place to use it by myself is on my belly, but I may also choose my upper arms and thighs.

I always rotate the location. For example, if I prefer the right side of my belly, I'll choose the left side for the next time." Riley added.

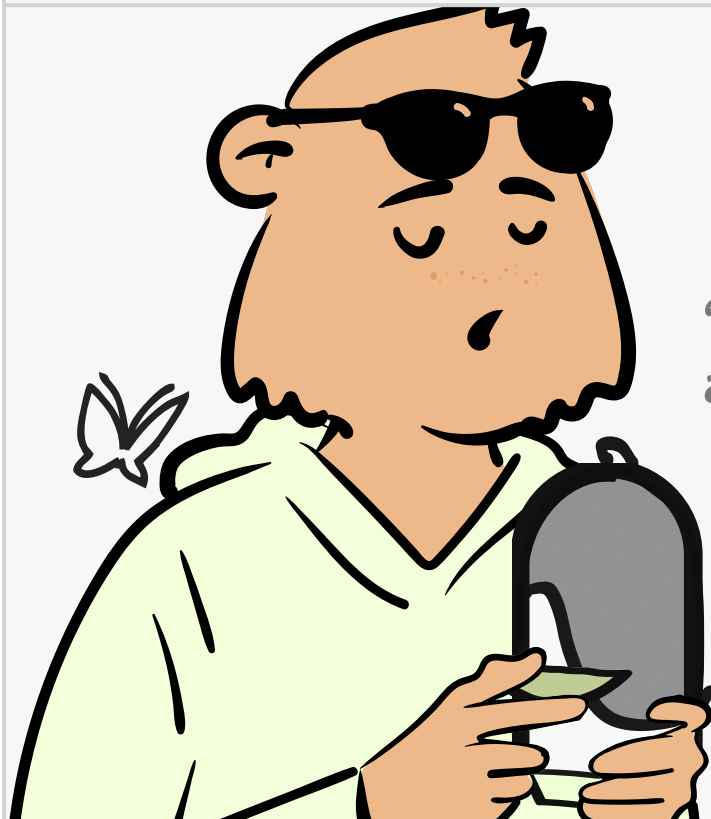

Riley sees the rocket.

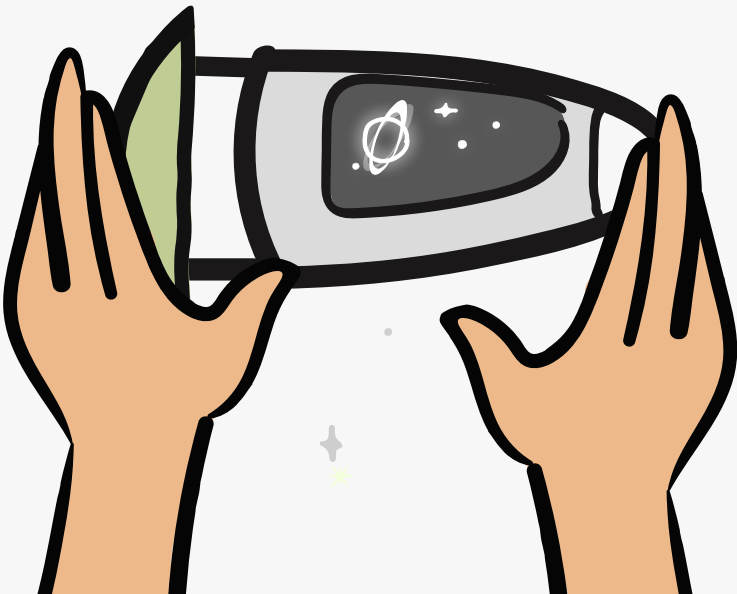

"I bring it close to my body and press the top button when I see the rocket."

"I'm waiting until the rocket takes off"

"Aha! here it is. So, I can pull my pen out."

"Let's remove this box at the bottom!"

And push the pen into the big planet like that.

That's all, mate!

I put the pieces in place, of course," said Riley.

"Umm, Riley, Riley I have a question."

"A a Yeah?"

"Does it hurt?"

"Haha, Not that much. it's more like a butterfly has landed on your arm."

"Riley, may I use it?"

Taylor & Riley

2024